

Title IX at BGSU[®]

[next steps for Residential Students]

What is Title IX?

The Office of Title IX at BGSU is committed to cultivating a campus environment free from harassment and sex and gender-based discrimination through reporting, education, prevention, response, and remediation. We provide leadership pertaining to the Title IX regulations, state laws, and University policies, as well as develop and implement best practices for prevention, training, resources, and support services.

Your Resident Advisor and Hall Director are mandatory reporters, which means they have to submit a report regarding your incident to the Title IX Coordinator.

In the next 24-48 hours, you will either receive:

- a phone call from the Office of Title IX or the Office of the Dean of Students to schedule a time to talk.
- a scheduled appointment letter using your current course information.

Even if you are not sure what you want to do, speaking with our office gives you the opportunity to let us know:

- what you need
- how we can support you; and
- what options you have moving forward.

It's okay if you do not accept our invitation to meet. Please know that we will be limited in the help we can provide and options moving forward. You can always contact us when you are ready.

Here are the things to prepare you for the meeting:

- Although we prefer to meet in person, we can always schedule a virtual meeting.
- You can bring someone with you to the meeting. This person is called an "advisor".
- We will discuss what type of academic support or other supportive measures you need. This can include:
 - No contact order
 - Changes to academic, living, working, or transportation situations/ conditions
 - Reaching out to your professors to excuse missed classes
- We will explain all your options which could include:
 - helping you make contact with police
 - moving forward with a university investigation
 - nothing at this time
